

Before this Do Not Call List was enacted, we were getting 3 - 4 solicitation calls every evening. From all different sorts of telemarketers, most of the time, the same company calls more than twice a week. We could not enjoy eating dinner without the phone ringing off of the hook. Caller ID was useful in not answering the phone, but it would ring constantly. There were plenty of times that I turned the phone off, after finding out that I missed an important call.

I cannot tell you how much we now enjoy having dinner, relaxing on a weekend, without getting any telemarketers peddling their junk. I am against The Federal Communication Commission overturning New Jersey's 'Do Not Call' law. Instead I think that this Law should be followed by all states.

If I need something, I buy it. I don't need strangers calling me at all hours of the day and even at night to convince me to buy something which I don't need.

Please don't reverse the Law.

Thank you
